Only 17 Days Left For Truce

Armistice Deadline Approaches With Gloomy Outlook For An Agreement

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Only 17 days remain for Allied and Communist negotiators to agree on an armistice in the 30-day time limit they set — and the outlook is gloomy.

The negotiations entered their sixth month today with an Allied demand for an answer tomorrow about talks on exchanging prisoners of war. The Reds have stalled on this.

The truce subcommittee also are locked in stubborn debate over how to enforce an armistice.

Record Bitter Debate

The talks have piled up a record of bitter debate, delay, distrust, deadlock and — at varying times since they opened July 10 — prolonged suspension.

But some high Allied officers express belief privately that an armistice agreement may yet be reached by Dec. 27. That was the date agreed upon as a deadline when the issue of a buffer zone across Korea was settled Nov. 27.

It took four months to agree on the demilitarized zone which would separate opposing armies. That zone follows the current battle line, most of it north of Parallel 38.

Both sides then introduced plans for supervising an armistice. They were wide apart.

The Allies proposed joint Allied and Red inspection teams free to travel all over Korea; the right to rotate troops and replace worn equipment; a ban on military buildup including construction of airfields; the right to hold war-zone islands off north Korea.

Later, the Allies said they would give up the islands for "suitable compensation."

The Reds accepted the principle of behind-the-lines inspection. But they said observers should come from neutral nations and should inspect only "ports of entry."

Dispute From Start

The Reds also said that neither side should introduce into Korea any military forces, weapons or ammunition under any pretext. This met the Allied demand for maintaining pre-armistice levels but raised a block against rotation of troops or replacement of equipment.

Disputes flared from the very start of the talks July 10.

The Communists demanded the question of withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea be placed on the agenda. Allied delegates refused, saying that was a political issue. The Communists finally proposed, and the Allies accepted, a broadly worded proposal that would give them a wedge to recommend withdrawal later.

Agenda Finally Set

As finally worked out in 10 meetings, the agenda accepted July 26 provided:

- 1.—Adoption of an agenda (accomplished at once).
- 2.—Fixing a cease-fire line.
- 3.—Arrangements for an armistice and supervision of it.
- 4.—Exchange of war prisoners.
- 5.—Recommendations to the governments of both sides.

The negotiators immediately debated where to draw a cease-fire line.

The Communists demanded the dividing line along Parallel 38. The Allies proposed a line in the general area of the battlefront north of Parallel 38.

Charge Neutral Violation

During ensuing debates in the summer months both sides charged violation of the neutrality zone around Kaesong.

On Aug. 23, the Communists broke off the talks. They charged that an Allied plane attacked in an attempt to "murder" the Red delegation.

This resulted in the longest break in the talks — two months.

The sessions were resumed Oct. 25. After a month a joint subcommittee agreed that the battle line should determine the cease-fire line.

Now the truce teams are deadlocked on how to supervise the truce and whether to discuss immediately exchange of prisoners. Communist stalling on the latter drew Allied charges of blackmail. A spokesman said the Reds were using prisoners as "human clubs" to force acceptance of Communist terms for truce supervision.

The moment for compromise appears at hand. Or this could be the stalemate on which the talks will fail.

Three Children Die As Firemen Watch Their Home Burning

BARRIE, Ont. Dec. 10.—(AP)—Three children perished in their flaming home in Honey Harbor yesterday while firefighters watched helplessly.

Burned to death were Peter and Paul Rice, 15-month-old twins, and their sister, Mary, 4 months.

Honey Harbor is about 45 miles north of here in the Muskoka district.

Thier father, David Rice, sailing on the freighter New York News, heard of the tragedy at Muskegon, Mich., and left for home.

Police said the fire began when four-year-old Malcolm Rice stirred up the fire while his mother went out for water, and tar paper lining the walls caught fire.

Southwestern Bell Need Not Repay Fund

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The Missouri Supreme Court ruled today Southwestern Bell Telephone company did not have to repay to subscribers $370,000 in contested telephone rates.

The court said Cole County Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair did not have the jurisdiction to order the repayment.

The money involved was alleged overcharges by the utility while a $3,500,000 rate increase was being tested in the courts two years ago.

Osborne, 2 Others Must Serve Terms

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The Missouri Supreme Court decided today Alfred H. Osborne, former Kansas City lawyer, and two of his associates must serve eight months in jail for contempt of the Jackson county circuit court.

RICHMOND, Mo., Dec. 10.—(AP)—An altercation between two Richmond men resulted in a shooting yesterday.

The victim, Leonard Hugo Dye, 26, was wounded in the right hip by a 20 gauge shotgun charge and in the left elbow by a 22 caliber pistol bullet. He was taken to the veterans hospital at Wadsworth, Kas. for treatment.

Melvin T. Leach, 38, was arrested and held for questioning. Dick Dale, assistant prosecuting attorney, said Leach admitted the shooting. Dale said a charge of assault with intent to kill would be filed against Leach today.

Dale said there had been ill feeling between the two for some time.

Iran Would Sell Oil To Soviet Unless West Buys It Immediately

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Iran threatened today to offer 2.5 million tons of oil products for sale to Russia or her satellites unless western buyers take it off Iran's hands almost immediately.

This resulted in the longest break in the talks — two months.

The sessions were resumed Oct. 25. After a month a joint subcommittee agreed that the battle line should determine the cease-fire line.

Now the truce teams are deadlocked on how to supervise the truce and whether to discuss immediately exchange of prisoners. Communist stalling on the latter drew Allied charges of blackmail. A spokesman said the Reds were using prisoners as "human clubs" to force acceptance of Communist terms for truce supervision.

The moment for compromise appears at hand. Or this could be the stalemate on which the talks will fail.

Small Boy, Going Blind, Has Early Yule to See His Gifts

WOODWARD, Okla., Dec. 10.—(AP)—Christmas came early for Vernie Smith yesterday.

The two-year-old youngster, suffering cancer of the eye, may not see another.

"Unless a miracle happens he will lose his sight," his doctor said. One eye was removed last February. The tumor has spread to the other eye. An operation is necessary to save the little lad's life.

That will be performed Wednesday at Oklahoma City. Surgeons are expected to remove the other eye.

"The growth of cancer has spread to such an extent it is impossible to transplant," his parents were advised.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith decided to hold Christmas early for Vernie.

Belgian, Italian Clash on Europe's Defense Policies

STRASBOURG, France, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Van Zeeland and Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi clashed today over Europe's political and defense policy.

Both spoke to the European consultative assembly on the eve of six-power talks here on the political and financial features of the projected Plevin Plan European army.

Van Zeeland made a new appeal for British participation in a diluted version of the Plevin plan, while De Gasperi urged immediate steps toward a political federation as a base for the unified army.

The Belgian minister deplored building a defense for "only one-fourth of Europe" and called for an inter-ministerial control of the army acceptable to Britain. He opposed a "heavy, complicated superstructure" for the army similar to the Schuman plan for pooling steel and coal resources.

De Gasperi, however, declared Western Europe must create a federal union to enlist the enthusiasm and loyalties of European youth as well as to convince Americans that Europe is reliable.

County, State, City Taxes Due

Penalties Are Added After January 1st, Collector Explains

Taxes are due now. There are just three more weeks left to get county, state and city taxes paid before penalties are added.

Miss Hazel Palmer, county collector, explained there has been a steady paying of taxes by the people with no long lines or rush, as experienced in past years.

She also said many of the taxpayers are giving much more thought to Christmas shopping than to paying taxes. "It is noticeable," she said, "by the fact some people are paying either their real estate or personal tax and letting one or the other go with the explanation they are going to do the Christmas shopping and see how much they have left."

"Penalties on taxes go on at midnight Dec. 31, regardless whether a taxpayer has paid his or her real estate or personal tax. The penalty is assessed against the unpaid tax," she explained. Penalties starting Jan. 1 are three per cent, increasing one per cent each month thereafter. There is also an added penalty for unpaid taxes on real estate, that being for entering this on the delinquent books," Miss Palmer said.

Egypt Considers Severing Relations With the British

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Egypt's government today considered severing diplomatic relations with Britain following leveling of an Egyptian village by road-building British soldiers.

Acting Foreign Minister Ibrahim Farag Pasha said a decision would be made soon. The cabinet held two lengthy sessions yesterday, but a spokesman said only that Anglo-Egyptian relations were discussed.

In the Suez Canal Zone the British announced that two of their soldiers were stabbed, beaten and killed and a third was critically wounded in Ismailia's Arab quarter Saturday night.

An Egyptian communique reported another Egyptian dead from wounds received in the fighting at Suez last Tuesday, raising to 51 the number of Egyptians reported killed.

States Discuss Arms Impact On All Projects

Governors Or Their Representatives Talk Defense Production

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Top mobilization officials meet here today with governors or other top representatives from most of the states to outline the impact of expanding rearmament on public works projects.

Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett and Defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann are expected to explain at the meeting how scarce steel and other critical materials will become.

For Wilson, the session will be the continuation of a busy week-end devoted to mobilization problems.

The boss of the rearmament effort told an audience at Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday night that output of civilian goods has not held up military production.

On the contrary, he said emphatically, it has been necessary to continue to produce "butter" along with "guns" to prevent widespread unemployment.

But he added that defense production is shifting into high gear so that there will be sharper cutbacks of civilian goods in the first half of next year.

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), chairman of a Senate armed services subcommittee on preparedness, has complained that arms production has lagged seriously. His committee said too much consideration has been given non-essential items at the expense of needed arms.

The Johnson group's criticism, however, brought a sharp rebuke from another congressional committee—the Senate-House defense production committee—last Thursday.

That joint committee, headed by Senator Maybank (D-S.C.), accused the preparedness group of "crying wolf" and commended production officials for "an outstanding job of defense mobilization," despite what is called "lags in certain lines."

Yesterdays Wilson went to the Pentagon for an unusual Sunday conference with the military high command.

The meeting was private but apparently was devoted to the old controversy between the civilian and military rearmament chiefs, over the speed and priorities of weapons production.

Congress Must Meet Defense, Cut Expenses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) said today the gravest problem Congress will face next year is "how to keep the government solvent and at the same time meet our defense requirements."

Noting reports that President Truman's budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 may total $85,000,000,000 or more, McClellan told reporters:

"We've got to find some way to economize on domestic spending and make sure defense spending is carefully screened."

The most important issue, the gravest problem ahead of Congress is to keep the government solvent. It's going to be tough because we certainly have to continue our armament program to prepare against the danger of another world war."

Similar concern regarding spending was expressed by Senator Robinson (D-Va.), who said the federal budget will be "the most vital issue confronting the next Congress."

Plans have been completed to have the Christmas dinner and party at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria at 7 p. m. Dec. 17.

Truman Reviews World Set-up With Advisors In Washington

Emphasis Placed on Korean Truce Talks After Chief Cuts His Vacation Short; He Declares Nothing Wrong at Present

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—President Truman canvassed "the world situation" with top military and political advisers today, but "no policy decisions were made" at the 70-minute conference.

The White House said the discussions included the Korean armistice negotiations but were not confined to that subject.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—President Truman reviewed the world situation, with particular emphasis on the Korean truce negotiations, at a White House conference today with his military and diplomatic advisers.

One of the matters presumably discussed was what course the United States should follow if the present Korean peace talks fail to produce a complete armistice by Dec. 27, the deadline set by truce negotiators when the issue of a buffer zone across Korea was settled on Nov. 27.

Mr. Truman cut short his Florida vacation by a week to fly back yesterday for this and other conferences.

Meets Cabinet Members

Meeting with Mr. Truman were Secretary of Defense Lovett, Undersecretary of State Webb, the secretaries of the three armed services and the members of the joint chiefs of staff.

Seeking to allay tension which grew out of the sudden announcement Saturday that he was flying back to Washington, Mr. Truman told reporters Sunday:

"There is nothing wrong—don't get it into your minds that the world is coming to an end."

The Korean truce negotiations had top billing on the agenda for the White House meeting.

Will See McGrath

Mr. Truman also disclosed that he will follow up the study of the delicate international situation with a conference with Attorney General McGrath and other officials of the Justice department which will presumably cover a congressional investigation into federal tax scandals.

Asked by reporters, who interviewed him when he landed at the Washington airport yesterday, whether he would discuss the Korean situation, among other things, Mr. Truman said: "Of course."

And he said this meeting will be followed by a conference with the attorney general and several other people in McGrath's office, "probably" this afternoon.

Consider "Dramatic Move"

The White House has maintained resolute silence on published reports Mr. Truman is considering some "dramatic move" in the tax scandals.

These reports have speculated he might assign FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to a government-wide inquiry, that he might name Republican and Democratic lawyers to prosecute miscreants and that he might set up a bi-partisan commission to make an inquiry independent of current hearings by a House ways and means subcommittee.

The sudden announcement from Key West late Saturday that Mr. Truman was flying back to Washington Sunday for his White House conference Monday sparked widespread speculation as to the purpose of the meeting, especially since Irving Perlmutter, assistant presidential press secretary, said:

"The meeting was devoted to the old controversy between the civilian and military rearmament chiefs, over the speed and priorities of weapons production."

Caudle Admits He Heard of Fix Case Last August

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Lamar Caudle acknowledged today that he heard last August of an alleged attempted "tax fix" shake down of Abraham Teitelbaum. He said he called Frank Nathan on the telephone and bowed him out for "bandying" his name.

House tax investigators recessed for luncheon without developing whether Caudle, then an assistant attorney general, took any further action beyond the telephone call after he got wind nearly four months ago of the sensational story Teitelbaum told publicly last Tuesday.

Teitelbaum, a Chicago lawyer who in times past has represented Al Capone, testified that Nathan and Bert K. Naster sought $500,000 from him last April under threat he would have "tax troubles."

And he said they told him there was a "clique" in Washington, including Caudle, which looked for "soft touches."

Wife Held In Murder

DALLAS, Tex. Dec. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Boswell, 52, wife of the late wealthy oilman Thomas W. Boswell, 56, was indicted for murder today in connection with his death.

The grand jury returned a report after having the case under study since shortly after Boswell was fatally shot Aug. 20 as he and his wife sat in their car at the Melrose hotel here.

Boy Tells of Watching His Companions Drown In Lake

DENISON, Tex., Dec. 10.—(AP)—A West Texas teenager today recounted the harrowing experience of watching his companions slip, one by one, from their overturned boat on cold, wind-swept Lake Texoma on the Texas-Oklahoma border. Four youths drowned.

The lad, Robert Davenport, 17, Odessa, spent nearly 30 bitter hours on the lake, much of the time in sub-freezing weather. He was in the water about 10 hours, his numb body buffeted by 10-13 foot waves.

Temperature on the lake dropped to 20 to 25 degrees, weathermen estimated. A 15-18 mile-per-hour wind, whipped through Davenport's soaked clothing, sapped what little warmth his body generated.

The teenager was semi-conscious when found on a small island. His rescuer almost didn't find him. Dr. W. C. McCaskill, Dallas dentist, was leaving when he heard a thin cry and found the numb youth.

Dr. McCaskill had gone to the island to investigate the half-submerged boat, which had washed up on the island.

Rescue Rancher In Well

Trapped 18 Hours As Walls Collapsed, His Condition 'Good' When Brought Out

PENDLETON, Ore., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A 51-year-old rancher, trapped for 18 hours in a 18-foot well while heavy digging equipment churned about him, was brought to safety today.

In the Pendleton hospital where he was taken after the dramatic rescue in sub-freezing temperatures, doctors described his condition as "good."

The rancher, Norman Vina Ford, 51, was pinned to the well bottom with his foot under a plank when the walls caved in at 11:30 a.m. (PST) yesterday. At 5:50 this morning, he was lifted to the surface.

His Son Is Hero

Ford's 18-year-old son, Leon, was the hero of the rescue operation. He was helping his father sink the well but was working on the surface when the walls collapsed. Leon jumped in and began digging his father out with his hands. Neighbors who had been called lowered buckets to the youth.

Leon had his father uncovered down to the knees when the walls caved in a second time. Leon spotted another section of the wall about to give way, braced his back against the crumbling section. He remained there for seven hours.

Crew From Dam Project

It took that long for a crew with digging equipment to arrive from nearby Umatilla where McNary dam is under construction. As hundreds watched under the glare of searchlights, John Morton took charge of the rescue. He had a 24-inch iron pipe forced down about the trapped man. That prevented further cave-in.

When the pipe was in place, Leon was brought to the surface. He was put to bed with a mild case of shock.

Later the youth said of his seven hours in the well: "I was scared a little—mostly when I saw more dirt falling down on Dad a little bit at a time."

Make 50-Foot Hole

After the pipe was slipped around Ford's head and shoulders, huge diggers began widening the mouth of the well to 50 feet across. The last several hours rescuers dug with their hands and small shovels. The pipe was removed and Ford was propped up in the middle of the now huge ditch. He was weak but still conscious as rescuers uncovered his feet.

Mrs. Ford remained at the top of the hole, calling down encouragement to her husband through the afternoon until rescuers asked her to leave.

She remained inside the ranch house until ambulance attendants brought her husband up from the pit on a stretcher. She rushed out and rode in the ambulance to the hospital.

Dostors said they would X-ray one of Ford's legs for a possible fracture. Other than that, he suffered no apparent ill effects

Freezing Wind Imperils Life In California

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Freezing winds up to 75 miles an hour shrieked across Southern California today, imperiling lives and crops.

Long stretches of highway were closed. All but the largest vessels were warned off the seas. Airports were closed. Powerlines fell, plunging cities into darkness.

Two young students in a skiff were believed blown out to sea in the Malibu area and feared lost.

Sand Paint From Cars
Gale-whipped desert sands scoured the paint from automobiles caught on the roads in the San Bernardino area. In the San Fernando Valley, palm trees were stripped of fronds and the litter clogged the streets.

Ontario International Airport was closed when great sand clouds cut visibility to one sixteenth of a mile. Burbank, San Bernardino and Riverside airports also shut down for a time.

Along the beaches, winds ranged up to 50 miles an hour. At Zuma beach a gust lifted an 18-foot dory from its dolly and hurled it into the surf.

Power "Black-outs"
Parts of the cities of San Bernardino, Ontario, San Valley, Canoga Park and Reseda were blacked out temporarily by power failures.

Crop damage was believed running high but there were no estimates of cost yet. Smoke from orchard smudge pots billowed high in the air as growers fought to save crops from temperatures that dropped as low as 15 degrees above zero.

Yesterday was the coldest Dec. in the 75 year history of the weather bureau here. The official 32 in Los Angeles was the lowest since the record of 37.9 in January of 1949.

Not So Cold, Still Windy
The Southern California Gas Co. reported an unprecedented drain on the supply of natural gas for home furnaces, but said reserves are ample.

Strong winds are expected to continue through the day and night, but the mercury will not plunge quite so low.

The two students who failed to return on schedule from a fishing trip were identified tentatively as Gerald Singleton, 21, Santa Monica, and Lewis Geiser, 21, Burbank. Search by sea and air failed to disclose any trace of them or their boat.

CLARKSBURG—The past week has been favorable for the farmers to work in their fields. Some have finished gathering their corn and harvesting kafir corn. Much combining of lespeera seed was done in this community last week.

Many folk from this community attended the revival which has been in progress the past two weeks at the Mt. Moriah church, south of town.

The B. W. C. ladies met Thursday evening at the Baptist church annex and studied the missionary book, "Pilgrimage to Spanish America."

Carol Donley, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Donley, has whooping cough.

Mrs. Eva Whittaker, who has been ill for many months, seems to be slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Howe of Kansas City spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Howe.

Mrs. Bob Ferguson of Jefferson City spent the weekend with Miss Mary Maxine Yarnell at the home of her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Yarnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Martin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunham went to California, Mo., and spent Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dunham and children. Ray and Dennis are brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alvin, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Renshaw of Cooper county.

Mrs. G. C. Van Stratten had as Sunday dinner guests her children and grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Van Stratten and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Lloyd of Jefferson City; Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Stratten and Lavena of Clarksburg. In the afternoon they called on Mrs. Clyde Van Stratten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Donley, and brother, Benton Porter, of Mt. Moriah community.

At the missionary book study, "Pilgrimage to Spanish America," held Friday afternoon at the Baptist church annex, 17 members were present. Two W. M. U. visitors from Mt. Pleasant church, Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Bolinger, and Miss Mamie Vaughan, a member from Flag Springs church, were also present. Mrs. Jessie Williams of Clarksburg, gave the lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells went to Sedalia Sunday morning to visit with their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wells, who have recently moved from here. Later they went to Centerville to visit his sister, Mrs. Earl Donley and Mr. Donley. Mrs. Donley has recently been dismissed from the Missouri Pacific hospital and is improving.

RADIO ENGINEER—Pfc. Betty Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Anderson, Jr., 501 West Sixth, is making a name for herself at A & M college at Stillwater, Okla., as a lady engineer in a radio station.

Betty, who worked four and one half years at the Southwestern Bell Telephone office here in the traffic department, enlisted in the Air Corps April 20, 1951 and took basic training at San Antonio, Tex.

She was then sent to A & M and when the call went out from the college radio station for volunteers, when the school opened this autumn, Betty volunteered. Although she had no radio experience, she got the job. She does a regular stint as engineer.

A picture of her taking care of the control room, along with a story about the station, appeared in the Dec. 1 issue of the Oklahoma City Times.

The Rev. R. S. Waggoner, pastor of the Odell Avenue Presbyterian church, officiated, reading the double ring service.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Lola Wagle.

Jerry Labus of Sedalia was best man.

C. E. Wagle gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a beige suite with black accessories, and wore a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Lola Wagle wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories, and a corsage of bronze mums.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a three tiered all white cake on which was a miniature bride and bridegroom. Yellow mums and yellow tapers completed the table decorations.

Miss Patricia Farnham, of Marshall, served the wedding cake after the bride and bridegroom had cut the first piece. Misses Dorothy Bolton and Phyllis Miller and Mrs. Junior Ashinhurst took turns serving the lime frappe.

Miss Opal Birl, aunt of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

Leo Eickhoff, Jr. Into Discussion By College Group

Leo Eickhoff, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eickhoff, 705 West Fifth a sophomore in political science at the University of Missouri, Columbia, was one of a group of 26 students from six midwestern colleges invited to Grinnell college, Iowa, to discuss the questions: "How Can We as a Nation Improve Our Moral and Ethical Conduct?"

The students were unhappy over the way things are being run and there was more agreement about what was wrong than there was on what ought to be done. They tried to get together on a statement that federal officials ought to be paid wages similar to what they would receive outside federal service, there ought to be a federal code of ethics and there ought to be more religion.

The picture of Leo Eickhoff, Jr., appeared in the Des Moines Register of Dec. 2 along with seven other students and a story telling what each thought about the state of the nation.

Eickhoff's statement follows: "The major problem is in government. We look up to people in government and if they are bad, we are bad."

"We are getting to the point that only rich men can run for office and remain honest."

"If federal jobs paid more, we would get better men and there would be no need for donations from people who expect favors in return."

Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 15, will meet in regular form at the Masonic Temple Wednesday, December 12th at 7:30 o'clock for public installation of officers. Public is cordially invited to attend. All officers and members please be present.

Grandmother Is Still Lost On 'Bama Peak

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 10.—(P)—The dark slopes of Double Oak Mountain today still hide the fate of a missing grandmother who vanished eight days ago.

Some 100 searches, the stubborn remnant of 500 men who had combed the sparsely settled area, forced their way through thick brush all day Sunday. Again they found no trace of 76-year-old Mrs. Ann Bragg.

Rain and near freezing temperatures increased the odds against the elderly matron, if she still were alive on the boulder-strewn ridges.

Relatives clung to hope inspired by reports that a mysterious woman resembling Mrs. Bragg had been seen as late as Friday.

Residents of the Dunavant community 10 miles away said the woman ate in a home, attended a funeral and was seen near a school.

But each time she disappeared. It appeared none of the reticent mountain people had asked who she was or where she lived.

Shelby county sheriff A. E. Norwood said he was investigating the possibility of foul play in the case.

Mrs. Bragg vanished while walking between the homes of a daughter and son only a quarter-mile apart. She was warmly dressed at the time. The weather was mild most of last week.

Relatives said Mrs. Bragg's memory was feeble. They feared she might have wandered off the trail, becoming lost in the thick underbrush.

He was private first class when he fought his own personal and courageous action near the Korean village of Munye-Ri last May 21, killing 15 of the enemy. He was wounded eight days later in another engagement.

The army announcement today on the award said Rodriguez's action was an "incredible display of valor."

G.I. Via Hoax, Now Declares Has Amnesia

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—(P)—Peter Grainger, identified by police as the "shoeless hillbilly" who hoaxed the U.S. Army into enlisting him and then strolled away to Canada, says he has amnesia.

Grainger, identified as a 25-year-old British World War II veteran, now under treatment at Sunnybrook military hospital, told reporters he can't remember things because of head injuries he received when he was clubbed by rifle butts as a prisoner of war in Italy.

He was shown newspaper accounts of how he walked into a San Antonio, Tex., recruiting station barefooted last month, told them he had just come out of the "buried of Nex, Mexico after he 'winded Paw,' and said he had only seen the white woman before in his life.

"I thought at first it must be somebody else," he told a reporter. "They asked me if I remembered all that and I couldn't decide whether I remembered it or had just read it. It was just as if I had read about it."

All I can remember was doing an awful lot of walking," he said. "It's happened before to me. I seem to get the urge to escape every once in a while, like when I escaped from an Italian prisoner-of-war camp."

Grainger was found walking along the highway between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie on Nov. 29. He had wandered away from the U. S. Army Proving Ground at Aberdeen, Md., where he was sent after being inducted. Aberdeen still lists the man as AWOL.

Far from being the innocent child of the wilderness he said he was, provincial police here say Grainger is an educated man with a wife and two children in London. He came to Canada in March, joined the Canadian Forestry Service as a ranger and planned to establish a home here.

North Korean Kid Soldier
WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA — (P)—Escorting one North Korean prisoner to the rear was like taking a 13-year-old orphan for a walk in the park and climbing the outing with an ice cream cone.

He was just a kid, no bigger than 10-year-old boys in neighborhood. The mascot-sized soldier had deserted from the North Korean People's Army believing that Americans would not mistreat him. He carried a Russian-type rifle two inches taller than he.

Canada Withholds Aluminum From The United States

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—It's a poor example of the Good Neighbor policy, but Canada is deliberately withholding precious aluminum from the United States. This has already pinched the aluminum supply for home construction and other civilian uses. But far more serious is the air force is not getting all the aluminum it needs to build jet fighters.

Furthermore, part of the aluminum Canada is withholding from us was financed by American RFC loans during World War II.

What Canada has done is divert aluminum from the American to the British market. It won't be admitted, but the real reason for this diversion is to force this country to swap steel for aluminum.

For example, Canadian aluminum shipments to the United States dropped from 34,800,000 pounds per month last March and April to a meager 5,300,000 pounds per month today—a decrease of 85 per cent. In the same period, Canadian shipments to Britain have shot up from 21,100,000 pounds to 39,700,000 pounds per month—an increase of 88 per cent.

As proof that this is a cold-blooded squeeze-play, Canada has doubled its aluminum shipments to Australia, Brazil, Uruguay and even Argentina at the same time it strangled the aluminum flow to this country. In fact, the United States is the only major market that received less Canadian metal this year than last. As a result, the United States is the only North Atlantic pact country that has forced to clamp civilian controls on aluminum.

Meanwhile the Canadian squeeze has accomplished its purpose and forced the United States to swap American steel for British aluminum. Hard up for steel but overflowing with aluminum, Britain has agreed to divert 22,000,000 pounds of aluminum to American purchasers during next 5 months. In return, Britain will be allocated 25,000 tons of fabricated American steel, 45,000 tons of steel ingots and another 28,500 tons of iron and steel scrap from the American zone of Germany. The joker in this deal is that the United States must return the aluminum after its own plants are expanded to make up the shortage, though Britain is allowed to keep the steel with no strings attached.

Another ironic fact is that Britain's contribution of 22,000,000 pounds of aluminum won't come from Britain at all, but will be shipped directly to us from Canada. In other words, this is the same aluminum that normally would have been shipped to the U. S. market anyway, but was withheld in order to force this country to kick in precious steel.

ikes Predicted It
But here is the final ironic payoff. During the recent war, Jesse Jones, then czar of the RFC, advanced $68,500,000 without interest to the Aluminum Company of Canada (affiliated with the Aluminum Company of America) to build the Shipshaw Aluminum plant on the Saguenay river.

Jones also extended another $34,240,000 at 3 per cent interest, gave the Canadian plant an order for all its aluminum, and provided that if the order was canceled before 1945, it would not be necessary for Canada to pay back the $68,500,000.

Harold Ickes, then secretary of the interior, vigorously protested. He argued that the USA could not control Canadian Aluminum, and that equipping a Canadian power project with vital turbines, would set back American power projects—Shasta Dam, Colorado—Big Thompson, parts of Grand Coulee, and others.

However, Jesse Jones had his

THE STORY: Alma Conroy believes her husband Tommy when he says he has a new, responsible, but confidential, position in the jewelry firm of Trumbull & Company, where both are employed. Tommy makes his wife a gift of expensive furs to prove it. Then Alma learns from Joe Denton, a friend, of a second in a series of inside robberies at the firm, and lunchtime gossip is linking Brighton Muncie, Tommy's boss, with an expensive playgirl, Myrtle Marchand. As Alma leaves work that evening, she looks around for Joe to tell him of Tommy's good fortune, and meets Joe at the employees' entrance.

"What?"

"He's had an important promotion. But I mean important! It's a confidential matter, Joe. He won't tell the details even to me."

"Then it isn't the photography spot?"

"No. Apparently it's something much better. But he'll still be with us at The House except when he's away on trips, like tonight. Isn't it wonderful?"

"Wonderful? It's positively uncanny!"

"I knew you'd be pleased. That's why I told you, even though please remember that it's a secret for the moment. I'm so happy and proud I'm ready to burst!"

"Dear Alma, you must be," said Joe softly, "after all these years of standing up for him."

"I knew it would come," she said simply, and was not ashamed that there were tears of happiness in her eyes.

"Come on then, let's go! We'll stop at the Blue Cat Bar for a drink first."

"Gee! I'm afraid I don't look swanky enough!"

"What? With those gorgeous new furs? Who's keeping you these days, Jewels?"

She looked up at him her face glowing with pride. "Believe it or not, Tommy is!" she said, triumph in her voice. "He gave me the foxes. Joe, and they're paid for! He's got a swell position. I hate to disappoint everybody, but my husband's making good, just as I've always known he would."

Joe gave a long whistle.

"What kind of a job—where?"

"I'd rather he'd tell you himself. I know he will when he gets back to town."

"Is it an out-of-town job?"

"Part of the time."

"The old so-and-so! Landing a job on the big time and never raising his lip about it to me. Is he with some important firm?"

Alma laughed aloud. "Yes, he is. Trumbull & Co."

THE SONGS OF CHRISTMAS

Shakespeare wrote, in "The Merchant of Venice":

"The man that hath no music in himself, Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils."

Song expresses the best in man's nature—his devotion, his praise, his happiness, his love. Of all the carols of joy and gladness, none is better known than "God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen." No one knows who wrote it, or when. It goes back at least 300 years and is England's best loved carol.

Another of the merry songs of Christmas is "Deck the Hall With Boughs of Holly." This dates back to the pre-Christian era in England and the midwinter festival called "Yule."

Sacred Heart Streak Ended At 7 Straight By St. Marys, 59-58

St. Marys high school of Independence snapped Sacred Heart's winning streak at seven games Sunday afternoon when they nipped the locals in the final seconds 59-58 on a long shot by Goodie.

The defeat was the first of the season for the Gremlins in eight games. The Sacred Heart team also went down to defeat, losing 37-30 to the St. Marys team. The S-H grade school five came through with the only victory of the day, a 28-22 triumph over the St. Marys grade schoolers.

Slow Start Hurts Locals
The Gremlins experienced a cold streak as the varsity contest got underway. S-H was on the short end eight points before Ryan hit a free throw to break the ice for the Sedalians.

The Gremlin attack sped up in the second period and at halftime they had narrowed the Independence lead to four points, 20-16. After a long uphill battle the Sedalians finally knotted the count at 41-41 at the end of third frame.

Lead Changes Hands
St. Marys zoomed back into a seemingly safe seven point advantage—but Sacred Heart wasn't out of the ballgame by any means as they tied the game and then grabbed a 58-57 lead with only seconds remaining in the contest.

Then Goodie hit his game winning long shot to pull out a victory. It was a thrilling and hectic game from the start. At one time during the closing minutes the referee called an official time-out to check the score. Coach Palmer Nichols believes this cost the Gremlins the game as the official count showed the locals out in front by one point while the scoreboard had the game deadlocked.

Gremlins Score 41 In 2nd Half
In the final half the Gremlins tallied 41 points as their offensive got rolling better than in any previous contest this season—but it just wasn't enough to catch the St. Marys five.

Goehde was the whole show by tossing in 31 points for St. Marys. For the Gremlins, Jim Labus had 16, Pat Ryan and Jim Fall with 11 and Bill Hodges with 12 were high scorers.

On Tuesday the Gremlins will meet Stover high school team on the Sacred Heart court. A volleyball contest is scheduled at 7 p. m. The varsity tilt will follow the volleyball game and the B team game will follow the varsity game.

Lincoln Takes Hubbard Tourney From Springfield

Lincoln high school of Kansas City won its second consecutive championship by defeating Springfield in the finals of the Hubbard High School Invitational Basketball tournament Saturday night by a 69-56 count.

Lincoln drew an opening round bye and then advanced to the finals by easily defeating the Hubbard Tigers, 70-39. Against Hubbard, Bennie Byrd and Tuck Saunders paced the Lincoln attack with 11 points. Jones with 12 led Hubbard and took high scoring honors for the game.

In the championship go Ken Johnson led the Lincoln five with 20 tallies. Lee of Springfield was high for the game with 22 points.

TCU Returns to Grid To Begin Preparation For Cotton Bowl Tilt

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 10.—(P)—Texas Christian's Horned Frogs return to the practice field today to begin preparations for their Cotton Bowl date with Kentucky at Dallas Jan. 1.

The so-called "Cinderella team"—an outfit that came back from humiliating defeats to win the Southwestern conference championship going away—will work only three days this week but they'll get down to real business next week.

The squad hasn't kicked a ball since Dec. 1 when the Frogs licked Southern Methodist 13-2 to clinch the conference title.

Coach Dutch Meyer has received a scouting report on Kentucky from Jim Crow, Baylor university assistant coach, and the TCU mentor said "They look like a tough ball club indeed. That passing is something."

Crow scouted both Kentucky and Georgia Tech, which Baylor meets in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1. He did it as a co-operative gesture.

Baseball Meet Fails to Give Any Big Deals

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(P)—The windup of the week-long minor and major league baseball conventions today produced nothing but a lot of legislative action which was greeted by yawns from the man in the street.

"What happened to all those dynamite deals cooked up last week in Columbus?" They asked.

The plain truth is they turned out to be a lot of duds. An innocent bystander would have wagged a week's salary that at least one trade would be pulled off the way the club officials, especially Buzzy Bavasi of Brooklyn and Gabe Paul of Cincinnati, hustled around talking shop with anyone who was willing to listen.

Just Nothing Doing
But now it's all over. No big league trades. No sales. No purchases. No nothing.

Nearly all of the club owners and managers have left or are en route home and Ted Williams is still with the Boston Red Sox. Eddie Stanky is still the property of the New York Giants. Fred Saigh still is seeking a manager for his St. Louis Cardinals and the Dodgers and Reds are no nearer to a deal than they ever have been.

Each league had an excuse for not completing a transaction. American League men blamed it on the veil of secrecy that shrouds the status of Joe DiMaggio.

All Would Trade With Yanks
All clubs are anxious to trade with the world champion New York Yankees who are the only ones with expendable young players with promise. The Yankees, however, have said they will not entertain a deal until they learn from DiMaggio whether he intends to play. The Yankee clipper has promised he will make known his decision tomorrow.

National League says they have been stymied in deals because of Saigh's failure to select his manager. "I have broached a deal to Mr. Saigh," said one official, "only to have Saigh tell me he wouldn't do anything before naming a manager. I know of at least two other clubs that got the same answer from him."

Officials Still Talk Trade
To be sure, there has been a great deal of trade talk. The optimistic still think Detroit and Cleveland will engineer a trade soon. As late as last night general manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians and Charley Gehring of the Tigers were closeted in a secret gabfest. It was whispered that the Indians were seeking right-handed power represented by the Tigers' Hoot Evers and Johnny Groth. Detroit was after a top flight hurler, preferably Early Wynn.

Bill Veeck, dynamic owner of the St. Louis Browns, said he was still seeking new faces and hoped "something would develop within 73 hours."

Unless Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, and Saigh come to an agreement today, the Cardinals are determined to leave St. Louis at 5 p. m. (EST) today prepared to name someone other than Stanky as manager. If Saigh fails to land Stanky, the job is expected to go to Terry Moore, popular Cardinal coach.

Cleveland Takes 2nd Championship In American Loop

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(P)—The battle for the right to represent the National conference against the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League playoff came down to the wire Sunday with three teams still in the thick of the fight. And a fourth has an outside chance of breaking into the picture.

While the Browns were defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-0 yesterday for their second successive American conference title, the Detroit Lions moved back into first place in the National division by edging Los Angeles Rams, 24-22.

At the same time, the Chicago Bears remained a strong contender with a 45-21 decision over the New York Yanks. San Francisco's 49ers stood ready to move into at least a tie if the leaders slip by turning back Green Bay's Packers, 31-19.

So as the league goes into the final week of regular competition the standings show the Lions leading the National conference by a half game with a 7-3-1 record. The Rams and Bears each have won seven and lost four for second place. The 49ers have a 6-4-1 record.

Next Sunday the Lions meet the 49ers at San Francisco with a victory necessary for the conference crown. Only a week ago the 49ers beat the Lions 20-10 at Detroit. Meantime, the Rams and Bears meet at figures to be easy competition. Los Angeles will be at home to Green Bay and the Bears meet the lowly Chicago Cardinals.

8 THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Mon., Dec. 10, 1951

Post Season Events Outlawed By Big 7 In Drastic Cutbacks

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—(P)—The Big Seven conference has clamped a series of restrictions on sports in one of the nation's most drastic cutbacks by a major college league.

The new rulings which include a ban on post-season athletic contests, came out of a three-day meeting of faculty representatives, school presidents and athletic directors. The meeting ended yesterday.

The post-season ban for the conference's seven schools goes beyond football bowl games. It even affects post-season events sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, such as basketball and track. It becomes effective Sept. 1, 1952.

Other rulings include: Spring practice in both football and basketball cut down. Fall basketball practice curtailed and the number of games reduced. Eligibility rules tightened. Recruiting of athletes by alumni and coaches drastically limited. Conference code on financial aid to athletes amended.

Schools in the Big Seven are Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa State, Nebraska and Kansas State. There is a possibility the restrictions on post-season play may be amended later in regard to NCAA events. The NCAA now is studying all post-season contests, including its own, and probably will make a report at its January meeting in Cincinnati.

Ivy League Has Ban on Bowls
Of the major conferences, only the Ivy league has had a ban on post season football games. It does permit participation in the NCAA basketball tournament, however.

In regard to recruiting, the Big Seven faculty said: "Personal solicitation or visiting of athletes off campus by members of the athletic staffs or their representatives (alumni included) is not permitted. Furthermore, no school, staff member or alumnus will be allowed to pay or arrange to have paid, the travel expenses of any prospective student visiting its campus."

The only thing now permitted will be to put up the visiting youth in a dormitory and provide his meals.

A violation of the ruling would make the youth ineligible to enter the school.

Must Earn Scholarship Money
A clause in the conference's scholarship code for athletes was amended to read that $15 a month allowed for incidentals must be earned and can no longer be an outright grant.

Spring practice in football was limited to 20 sessions, compared with six weeks and no limit on the number of sessions in the past.

Spring basketball practice was limited to 12 sessions instead of the usual three weeks and fall workouts cannot start before Nov. 1, compared with Oct. 15 in the past. The total number of games scheduled by a school was reduced from 24 to 21.

Freshman Rule Dropped
An emergency eligibility regulation, adopted last year, permitting freshmen to compete in varsity sports was dropped. Freshmen now in school will be permitted to compete on varsity teams for the remainder of this year, however.

Another eligibility ruling says athletes must complete their three years of varsity competition in four years of school attendance. An athlete no longer can lay out of competition while continuing in school and then use up that competition the year after he normally would have been graduated.

Tigers To Open '51 Home Season Tuesday Night

Coach Howard Glavin's Smith-Cotton Tiger basketball team will make its season's debut on Tuesday night with two games on tap. Tuesday night the Tigers will encounter a promising Marshall Owl squad and Friday night the Bengals entertain the Kemper Yellowjackets.

The Tigers have taken to the road to play their opening four games of the season and are battling an even 500 with two wins and two setbacks. The Bengals won their opening two games of the season, defeating Windsor and College High of Warrensburg. But when they took to Central Missouri conference territory they were a top flight hurler, preferably Early Wynn.

Bill Veeck, dynamic owner of the St. Louis Browns, said he was still seeking new faces and hoped "something would develop within 73 hours."

Unless Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, and Saigh come to an agreement today, the Cardinals are determined to leave St. Louis at 5 p. m. (EST) today prepared to name someone other than Stanky as manager. If Saigh fails to land Stanky, the job is expected to go to Terry Moore, popular Cardinal coach.

4 Big 7 Teams Play Non-Loop Foes Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—(P)—Four Big Seven conference basketball teams will open the week's heavy schedule with games tonight against non-conference opponents.

In tonight's games Kansas meets Creighton at Omaha, Missouri takes on Missouri Valley at Columbia, Iowa State plays Drake at Ames, and Oklahoma faces Baylor at Norman.

Kansas State will play California at Berkeley tomorrow night and San Francisco at San Francisco Wednesday. Then coach Jack Gardner will take his Wildcats back to Manhattan to meet Denver Saturday.

The Wildcats beat Arizona at Tucson Saturday for their third straight victory. The Kansas Jayhawks, who downed Denver 84-53 last Saturday, will move to Dallas for games with Southern Methodist Friday and Saturday. Kansas has a 2-0 record.

Missouri, untested yet, will tangle with New Mexico A. & M. Thursday and Iowa university Saturday—both games at Columbia.

Iowa State has won three games and Oklahoma has lost two.

College Basketball Roundup--

Cage Powers Make Fast Start; K-State Ends Arizona Streak

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(P)—The college basketball powers of last season, with an exception here and there, are off on the right foot in the campaign just under way.

However several schools face some tough competition this week that could mar their perfect records. Although several clubs, including Kentucky, have played only one game, nine of the first 10 teams in the Associated Press poll at the end of the 1950-51 season are rolling again. Only Bradley, which finished as the No. 6 team last spring, is finding things difficult.

Duke Makes It 4 Straight
Duke, apparently a coming power to challenge North Carolina State's reign in the Southern conference, slugged Bradley Saturday, 87-69. It was second loss in three games for the Braves. Duke now has won four in a row.

Kentucky, the No. 1 team last year and victor over Kansas State in the NCAA tournament, looked impressive in dusting off Washington and Lee, 96-46.

Oklahoma A&M, the Missouri Valley champion and No. 2 team last season, had the toughest time in its opener, rallying for a 45-43 double overtime victory over New Mexico A&M.

Wildcats Blast Arizona
The Columbia University Lions, Eastern Intercollegiate champs and No. 3 last year, took Amherst, 61-41, for their second straight. Powerful Kansas State, No. 4 last year and defending Big Seven champion, made it three straight by thumping Arizona, 76-57. The loss was the first in 81 games at home for Arizona.

Illinois, winner of the Big Ten title and the No. 5 team, opened with a 68-57 triumph over Butler. The Illini are rated the team to beat for the crown again this season.

The team which is expected to have plenty to say about the Big Ten race — Indiana — made it two straight by cracking Xavier of Cincinnati, 92-69. Indiana was ranked No. 7 last spring. North

Sam Snead Wins Miami Golf Open With Late Surge

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 10.—(P)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the soft-spoken professional who's been driving the ball 300 yards since high school days, won the $10,000 Miami Open Golf tournament because of a 40-foot putt.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., expert with the woods forged ahead of Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., professional, on the tenth hole yesterday and then coasted to a five stroke victory.

"That 40-foot putt on the tenth turned the tide," Snead said happily as he posted a 68 on the final round and 268 for the 72-hole competition over the 6,510-yard Miami Springs Municipal golf course.

It was Snead's fifth victory in the Miami Open. His total was one stroke behind the 267 he shot in winning last year.

Harper wound up in a tie with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., for second place. Both turned in 273s.

Committeemen Meet to Plan Pettis Program

The local chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration committee, James A. Harvey, reports that the 48 recently elected committee men met recently with the county committee to plan the 1952 agricultural conservation program and select practices on which assistance will be offered to participating farmers.

These committee men will soon contact Pettis county farmers to plan with them for the 1952 farm practices and afford them the opportunity to sign the 1952 farm worksheet before the final date of Feb. 15.

To be eligible for assistance under the 1952 agricultural conservation program, each cooperating farmer in Pettis county will be asked to develop a conservation plan for his farm that will make the greatest contribution to the nation's present and future food and fiber needs and designate the practices to be carried out in 1952.

This double-barreled objective—conservation for present and future production—is aimed at insuring the production of the agricultural commodities needed in the current defense effort, Harvey said. At the same time it has the purpose of protecting and improving the land so that the continuing needs of the nation's rapidly increasing population may be met.

In developing a plan for conservation under the 1952 ACP, Harvey advised, the individual farmer should build on the conservation progress already made and should take advantage of any conservation plan developed for his farm with the assistance of a state or federal agency.

Each cooperating farmer will be asked to designate from the county list of ACP practices those which he thinks will contribute most to getting his program under way and which are most justified as a public investment in production protection. Each farmer is urged to make the fullest use of the financial aid available under the ACP and of the technical assistance of the extension service, or other state and federal agencies.

Must Complete ACP Practices By Dec. 31st

To qualify for assistance under the 1951 agricultural conservation program soil and water conservation practices must be completed by Dec. 31, advises James A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis County Production and Marketing Administration committee.

The cooperating farmer, in order to receive assistance, also has the responsibility of reporting any conservation practices carried out in 1951 and to support his application for ACP assistance with the necessary evidence to show that the practices have been carried out in accordance with program standards. Individual notices are now being mailed to participating farmers requesting that performance reports be made as soon as all practices are complete.

All program practices carried out are subject to check by the county PMA committee to determine that the practices have been carried out in accordance with the approved standards. Harvey explains that the funds used to assist farmers in carrying out these practices come from all the people of the county and the county committee is charged with the responsibility of seeing that these funds are used to obtain the maximum conservation of soil and water conservation to the end that the land will continue to produce what is needed.

The agricultural conservation program, he points out, is like a partnership between the people and the farmers. Both are vitally concerned with maintaining and improving the productivity of the land. ACP provides a cooperative means to attain that objective.

For this reason, the chairman explains, it is necessary to make sure conservation practices carried out under the ACP meet accepted and approved standards. Since the appropriation for conservation work is made on an annual basis, it is necessary to complete all the conservation work for the year which the appropriation is made.

Time Short, Get Garden Soil Tests Made Immediately

It may be later than you think. Time is short to get your garden soil tested and to get that phosphate and potash that it may need plowed under.

Plowing under this fertilizer and organic matter this winter will result in the soil being in good shape by spring. Plowing it this early winter will have some other advantages. It will disturb the insects that are getting comfortable for the winter. Some insects live over in the trash on top of the ground. If you plow now, you'll turn the soil insects out of the ground and under. A lot of them will be killed.

If not already done, now is the right time to start plans for next year's garden. Start your seed list now.

New 4-H Calendars Available at Next Meeting of Council

The new 4-H calendar will be available at the next 4-H council meeting which is to be held on Dec. 11 in the assembly room at the courthouse. This attractive new calendar should be very helpful in keeping 4-H club events at each date has ample room for notations. It is designed so that each sheet can be saved and used for back records. When this procedure is followed every month, all information on the calendar, plus notes made on it, will be saved.

In addition, this calendar with its attractive illustrations will make a nice wall-hanging for any 4-H member's room. All of the national events, such as National 4-H Club week, club camp, achievement week, club congress, etc., are blocked off in green.

Now Is Time, Have Spring Seed Tested

"Now is the time to get the seed of your spring sown crops tested for germination and purity," says Assistant County Agent Jim Perry. Practically every year during January, February and March the seed testing laboratories in the state are swamped with last minute seed samples. As the result, many farmers do not get the results of their test back by planting time.

Every farmer can see the advantage of knowing the germination percentage of his seed. For example, early this spring you are planning on seeding some red clover at the rate of eight pounds per acre. If this seed's germination were only 60 per cent, there would only be about 4 1/2 pounds of live seed in the eight pounds seeded. That would look like a pretty thin stand after sowing eight pounds per acre, wouldn't it? There is a little change in the germination test of seed in a six-month period, and the purity test does not change if the seed is properly stored. Therefore, December would be a good month to have your seed tested. If a germination test is all that is wanted, mark the sample plainly as these samples can usually be returned faster than where both germination and purity tests are made.

It should be remembered the test can be only as good as the sample. That is why it is important that samples be representative. Small samples should be taken from several places and the samples well mixed. The size of the sample sent to the testing laboratories depends upon the size of the seed.

For larger seed, such as soybeans, corn, etc., one pint or quart of seed is needed. However, one-half to one pint is needed in the case of small seeds like the clovers and grasses. Samples for test may be sent either to the Seed Testing Laboratory, Field Crops Department, University of Missouri, or Seed Testing Laboratory, State Department of Agriculture, Jefferson City, Mo.

Notes On Balanced Farming

By Merle Vaughan
Several terraces were staked recently by Leonard McClure's, Norman Gibson, PMA committee man, assisted with the staking contractor, is doing the construction work. An entire 20 acres is being terraced, and Mr. McClure plans to have the field limed as soon as the terraces are finished. He may seed the field to permanent pasture for his grade A dairy herd next spring. The McClures also have a fine flock of turkeys.

A recent morning was spent on the Raymond Keith farm southwest of Sweet Springs. Mr. Keith is one of our new members and his major enterprise is broilers. He has converted a large dairy barn into a broiler house and was just completing a third floor to accommodate another 2,000 birds the morning I was there. His capacity now, including the addition, is about 9,500 birds at one time.

Raymond is interested, too, in improving the farm, growing some good pastures and controlling erosion. His pasture plans include four rotation ones to provide clean pasture for his hog enterprise. Mr. Keith lives just across the road from the Arthur Meyer farm where a clean hog pasture was laid out two years ago when Mr. Meyer was in the Balanced Farming association.

The R. R. Higginses, who are also new members, were visited that afternoon. Mr. Higgins and his son, Raymond, have several fields terraced and we went over the farm to lay out plans to terrace the rest of the rolling upland whenever they are ready. With a complete plan, they can work on a particular field and know that it will fit into the whole scheme when they are through.

The Higginses are particularly interested in soil testing and in the use of lime and rock phosphate to improve the productivity of their farm still further. Three of

Worms Ruin Farm Profit If In Hogs

You cannot afford to let roundworms and other parasites reduce the slim margin in hog production. They cause slow growth, poor use of feed and large death losses, says the extension office.

Parasite trouble many years ago led to the development of the McClean county system of swine sanitation to prevent such losses. This system included washing farrowing houses with hot lye water, washing sows with soap and water to remove worm eggs and disease germs, and moving pigs to clean pasture until they are at least four months old. This method was effective under practical conditions and it saved more pigs produced fewer runs, and helped toward rapid, low-cost gains.

Many treatments have been used to get rid of roundworms. Milk and milk products, worm seed oil and sodium fluoride have been somewhat effective. However, again prevention is more effective than cure. The best thing is to prevent this trouble by working out a plan and then working the plan called for in the McClean system.

To make this clean ground program work takes considerable thought. It works well by having three different fields on which to raise your pigs. Pasture saves high priced feed and puts the manure where you want it without hauling it.

This system calls for putting the fall pigs on spring seeded clover, red or Ladino, then grazing the next spring's pigs on this same field until they go to market in late summer or early fall. The following year this field then is plowed and planted to a row crop. These worms eggs to the weather and destroys most of them. Then the third year in the fall you have a field of clover for your fall pigs. This means that there is a period of about 24 months from the time pigs are taken off this field until others are put on it.

One thing must be considered in this is to arrange these three pasture areas in such a way that there is no drainage from one to another. This is essential to keep these parasites from being carried from the infested area to the others.

By careful planning you can provide water to all three areas by a coordinated program. Some build a pond in a location that makes it comparatively simple to pipe water to all three.

Anyone interested in getting more details on this assistance in getting plans worked out, is invited to contact the county extension agents at 118 1/2 West Third, Sedalia.

Houstonia WSCS Meets In Home Of Mrs. Houchen

The November meeting of the Houstonia W. S. C. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Clay Houchen. Mrs. George Goltz opened the meeting with a Scripture, and prayer by Mrs. W. B. Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Vernon McMullin was in charge of the program. "Thy Will Be Done" and "South of the Border" were given by Mrs. Vernon McMullin and Miss Mary Teubaug. The lesson, "Latin American Welfare," and the basic economic problems of Latin America were given by Mrs. W. B. Hollingsworth. Reasons behind these problems were given by Mrs. Hattie Weiburn and Mrs. Lind Stone gave the possible solutions to the problems. Miss Florence Rothrock gave the "Role of the Methodist Missions," and Mrs. C. F. Wicker gave a contrast of wealth.

Mrs. Clay Houchen, secretary, asked each member for a contribution of canned milk, to be sent to the orphanage.

The hostess served refreshments to 18 members and two guests. Mrs. Clint Harding and Mrs. Arthur Elliott, both of Sedalia.

The fields have already had soil tests run on them and two more fields were sampled that day. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins built a beautiful new modern home a year ago. The former dwelling is still in quite good repair and was built by Mr. Higgins' grandfather nearly 100 years ago.

George Knox of Beaman is having about 40 acres terraced this fall. Lawrence Castle of Otterville is doing the work. The terrace out-lets on the Knox farm were built about a year ago by James Bahner.

A review of part of the balanced farming annual report shows a total of 476 acres of permanent pasture on 20 farms renovated, fertilized and seeded to adopted grasses this year. This is an average of 23.8 acres per farm. Last year 12 farms seeded a little over 10 acres each.

THE NEW 24'x52' POULTRY HOUSE on the William P. McCune farm of Spring Fork address. Bill is standing at the feed-room door which opens right off the driveway. The location of this house was planned that way so feed could be unloaded from town or brought from the barn and put right into the feed-room without opening any gates. The house is of tile construction with a metal roof. Bill has plastered the house and will paint it white to match the other buildings. Of course the house has all the modern conveniences including, automatic waterers, dropping pits, community nests, straw loft and open front. It will house 300 heavy birds or 400 leghorns.

Balance Feed With Roughage For Winter Feeding of Cows

The old standard rule for winter feeding of dairy cows is "let your roughage be your guide." This is still a good rule according to R. L. Coplen, county extension agent. The dairy cow is a good converter of roughage and grain into human food. With common to poor roughage you may need to pay unusual attention to provide the right kind of feed. You may need to increase the amount of protein due to this poor quality of roughage.

With half the roughage of corn silage, stover, timothy or other non-legumes and one-half legumes the standard recommendation is ground corn 600 pounds; wheat bran or ground oats 250 pounds; cottonseed meal or linseed meal or soybean oil meal 150 pounds; steamed bone meal 15 pounds and salt 10 pounds. If the legume hay is of very inferior quality or less than half the total is made up of poor legume hay, some more protein should be included in the mixture. The following ration is suggested in this extreme case: ground corn 400 pounds; wheat bran or ground oats 300 pounds; linseed oil meal 200 pounds; steamed bone meal 20 pounds and salt 10 pounds.

If per chance straight legume hay of high quality is fed, a good ration is ground corn 600 pounds; ground oats or wheat bran 200 pounds; steamed bone meal 10 pounds and salt 10 pounds. The amount to feed is one pound of mixture to three pounds of milk produced for Jerseys or Guernseys and one pound of grain for each four pounds of milk produced.

If grass is available a little less of the high protein may be used.

Artificial Insemination Aids In Improving Dairy Herds

"No program of improvement of dairy cattle has affected as many cows as the use of good sires through artificial insemination," claims H. A. Herman of the dairy husbandry department at the Missouri College of Agriculture. At the beginning of this year more than four million cows were enrolled in organized breeding associations. While there has been an increase in the number of cows bred artificially, only about one out of ten cows is represented in three breeding associations in the state.

With the higher production costs, the dairyman must become more efficient. The dairyman can not compete when he invests capital, feed and labor in inefficient cows. Under 1949 Missouri conditions, a cow producing 337 pounds of fat made a return of $1.38 for each hour of labor. The average cow which produces 250 pounds of fat makes labor return of about 24 cents per hour. In the future, the dairyman who tries to carry on a dairy enterprise with low producing cows is going to have a hard time.

Here in Missouri, many of the sires used in these artificial breeding programs have tested daughters and are proved for production. Seventeen Guernsey sires have 42 tested daughters averaging 8,326 pounds of milk and 420 pounds of fat. Seventeen Holstein sires have 29 tested daughters averaging 12,146 pounds of milk and 451 pounds of fat. Thirty-one Jersey sires have 217 tested daughters averaging 7,305 pounds of milk and 389 pounds of fat. In these cases of the use of improved sires, they have been carefully selected from ancestors with high production records, good type and recognized blood-lines.

Over the county, 37 percent of the sires are proved with their tested daughters averaging about 436 pounds of butterfat. This program, now affecting about one-sixth of the country's milk cows, is certain to influence the producing ability of the dairy cows in the future.

Any Missouri dairyman who would like to take advantage of the opportunity for herd improvement through the use of better sires can get the information through the Pettis County Extension office. Also, any 4-H member can have one service a year for one half of the fee. Your local inseminator is Henry Eckles, phone 463.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Dec. 10.—(P)—John Homer Briegel, 62, of Trenton, Mo., was injured fatally Saturday night in a traffic accident on U. S. Highway 65, near Chillicothe. He was riding with Harold Dean Beaver, 28, of Trenton, when their car went out of control.

TARKIO, Mo., Dec. 10.—(P)—An 88-year-old Tarkio resident—James Randolph Fox—died Saturday night of injuries suffered in a highway accident last Monday. He was struck by a car as he walked along a road.

WINSTON, Mo., Dec. 10.—(P)—Miss Gladys Schroeder, Kansas City, was fatally injured Saturday night when an automobile in which she was riding ran off a highway and overturned near here.

State highwaymen said the driver of the car was Clarence Skaggs, Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10.—(P)—The collision of an automobile and a truck killed two Kansas City women yesterday. The victims were Miss Marie O. Schmidt, 62, head of the credit department of the Kansas City Power and Light company, and Mrs. Cecile Andrews, about 55. The accident occurred at East 63rd street and Highway 50.

CLINTON, Mo., Dec. 10.—(P)—Miss Lillie Josephine Lawler, 22, of Vista, Mo., died Saturday night of injuries suffered in an automobile collision earlier in the day.

The mishap occurred on highways 13 and 52, a half-mile south of Deepwater, Mo. Her husband's car and a truck collided. Lawler and the couple's baby daughter were hurt.

HUMANSVILLE, Mo., Dec. 10.—(P)—A three-car collision on Highway 13, north of Humansville, killed two persons and injured eight Saturday night. The dead were Claude J. Whalen, 40, and Ernest Reddell, 27, both of Kansas City.

Behind Bars Again Three Weeks After His Prison Release

SALINAS, Calif., Dec. 10.—(P)—Out of prison only three weeks George William Wells, 35, was right back behind bars today . . . charged with kidnaping, armed robbery, auto theft and speeding.

All because a policeman offered him a ride, at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. Policeman Ernest Leazy said Wells didn't like it when the drive led to the police station because Wells was incoherent. Leazy said Wells pulled a gun and threatened to kill him, but compromised by manacling him to a telephone pole with his own handcuffs.

Wells took the police car. He traded that 56 miles away for rancher Bill Collins' auto, trading shots with the rancher as he sped away.

Wells whizzed through Gilroy. Officers R. J. Edwards and Ed Piedmont gave chase in a running gun battle at 90 miles an hour.

Wells ran out of gas and took off on foot. Edwards brought him down with a flying tackle.

Salinas police said Wells told them he served two prison terms for burglary. In his pocket was a key to a bus station locker loaded with burglary tools, officers said.

Guy Lombardo Driving Car That Kills Pedestrian

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(P)—An automobile driven by orchestra leader Guy Lombardo, struck and killed a man and seriously injured a woman early yesterday.

The band leader was returning to his Freeport, Long Island, home from an engagement at the Roosevelt hotel in Manhattan.

A hearing has been set in vehicular accident court for Jan. 9 to determine whether there is evidence to warrant a charge against Lombardo.

The victims were identified as Isaac Lilien, 65, head of a chain of hardware stores, and Mrs. Mollie London, 40, mother-in-law of Lilien's son, Robert.

Lombardo told police the traffic light was in his favor and he was driving only 25 to 30 miles an hour when the two figures suddenly loomed before him.

Police said one witness reported the traffic light favored Lombardo, another asserted the light was against the musician, and a third said the light was changing at the time.

The accident occurred at 3:20 a.m. (EST) as the two victims were crossing to a bus stop at Woodhaven boulevard and Myrtle avenue in Queens.
